ISEA2011 Istanbul invites proposals for conference papers, artists and scientists' presentations

ISEA2011 Istanbul will be open to proposals encompassing a large range of topics under the general theme of interdisciplinarity at the intersection of Art, Science and Technology. It is our intention to appeal to the hard sciences and the humanities as well as the art community.

For this reason ISEA2011 Istanbul will host a large variety of thematic strands ranging from digital art to curatorial studies, from electronic media to digital architecture, from the intersection of art, science and technology to the concept of the digital city, from digital humanities to social media, from nanotechnology and art to urban ecologies, from transculturalism to mobile art, and more.

Although with a special focus on digital and electronic arts ISEA2011 Istanbul is open to both theoretical and practice based analyses at the intersection of Art, Science and Technology.

All submissions will be evaluated by an international jury.

All selected papers will be published in the conference proceedings with ISBN, ISSN and DOI.
